1 immediate and irreparable harm and would not be in the public interest. Plaintiff and the 2 proposed class have shown a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim.

3 2. Plaintiff and the proposed class have a clear legal and equitable right to enjoin the 4 release of the juvenile SSODA evaluations to the general public, as the disclosure would cause
5 immediate and irreparable harm and would not be in the public interest. Plaintiff and the proposed 6 class have shown a likelihood of prevailing on the merits of their claim.

7 3. Plaintiff and the proposed class have a well-grounded fear of immediate invasion of 8 their rights. Plaintiff and the proposed class's ability to seek injunctive relief would be meaningless 9 if the records were released prior to a determination on the merits.

11 4. Plaintiff and the proposed class have shown the anticipated release would result in 12 substantial and irreparable injury.

13 The Court therefore ORDERS that a preliminary injunction is GRANTED. It is
